Looking at the News with Col. Hugh Clark

MR. E. W. Beatty joins the movement to compel motorists to come to a dead stop at a railway crossing. Some motorists who didn't did.

History records that 30,000 pounds did not tempt the Scots to betray Prince Charlie. Gold was not the standard on the braes o' Mar.

People who criticize international conferences should remember that the world is now a unit; made so by steam and trade, by war and treaties, by debts and credits, by telegraph and telephone and wireless. If its ills can not be redressed by conferences, they cannot well be redressed without, although cases have been known where the patient recovered while the doctors were in consultation as to the nature of the disease, its cause and the remedies which should be applied.

Hitler's move to make every one in Germany work with his hands cannot be construed as an attack on the Jews. They always did that, anyway.

In the enfranchisement of women the United States followed the example of British countries, but it leads the way in selecting Mrs. Owen, a daughter of Wm. Jennings Bryan, as ambassador to Denmark. If diplomacy consists in the ability to bring home the bacon without spilling the beans a woman should succeed quite as well as a man. Indeed a discreet, intelligent woman has a natural advantage as a diplomat over an equally discreet and intelligent man. If Mrs. Owen succeeds in this post it is more than her father could have done.

The Bank Act is not going to be revised this year, but we understand that will not prevent banks from lending us money at 5 per cent. if they are determined to do so.

A United States newspaper predicts that Senate and Congress will soon rebel against the Roosevelt dictatorship and go to the very opposite extreme. From rubber stamp to eraser.

The Dail Eireann has abolished the oath of allegiance to the King. Most of the members had previously subscribed to that oath. They swallowed it but apparently it didn't take.

That was a wonderful conversation which Roosevelt relates as taking place between himself and Ramsay MacDonald. They were talking about the hope of the world. Roosevelt said, "Mr. MacDonald, it is more than hope—we have got to do it." And MacDonald said, "Yes, that good old Scottish word 'got'. We have got to do it." Very touching, but the real old Scottish word is "get."

When Britain was on the gold standard she couldn't keep the pound up. Now she can't keep it down.

Republics are proverbially ungrateful, so the Free state starts out toward that form of government with at least one of its characteristics.

There is one advantage in quoting a dead man. He can't get up and say he was misreported.

Everything that has been done so far in the United States has vindicated the wisdom of those who hoarded their gold and still hoard it. Many of those who did not lose their money in the banks and those who were persuaded, recently, to deliver their gold to federal reserve banks are wondering how much they lost through the devaluation of the bills which they accepted in return for their gold.

A Washington dispatch tells of a "gigantic plan" by which President Roosevelt by relaxing the anti-trust laws will enable private enterprise to "throw its combined strength against the walls of the depression." It's going to be an awful flop because the depression has no walls.

Many who a few years ago were classed as millionaires are passing away and probates reveal estates in the hundred thousands instead of the millions. If the mortality continues we shall suspect that some of them are trying to beat succession duties by dying while values are low.

Vulcan Drop First Game to Stavelly at Blackie Sport Day

Sunny skies on May 24 put everyone in holiday trim, and lured a great crowd from the surrounding district to the big baseball tournament at Blackie. This was the opener of the season, with Stavelly, Vulcan, Blackie and High River all in action. In the final contest between the winners of the two league events Blackie won from Stavelly with a score of 4-0, bringing the second shut-out of the day to the tournament hosts. It was a great day of ball, the teams for the most part showing midsummer form, and handing out excitement in bunches to the throng of fans.

In the baseball games Vulcan and Stavelly were drawn against each other, with Stavelly winning 3-2. Blackie and High River went into action with Blackie winning 2-0. These two games were league fixtures, and the final event between the winners was an exhibition contest.

Vulcan-Stavelly 3-2

The sensational features of the game came in the 5th and 6th innings Vulcan went into lead in the 5th, getting their two runs on a hit, a sacrifice hit and three errors. Stavelly retaliated in the 6th inning, in which they got their three runs on two hits and three errors. It was an interesting game all the way. Stavelly featured the figure 3 with 3 runs, 3 hits, 3 errors. Vulcan had 2 runs, 3 hits, 3 errors. Haynes struck-out 10; Caruthers 9.

Stavelly—Battery, Haynes and Rae; Adaman, Bouzan, Jenkins, Doyle, W. Rae, Free, Bingham.

Vulcan—Battery, Carruthers and Recor; Bouzine, Flynn, McIntyre, Marshall, Fulton, Harper, Woodward, Doane.

Umpires—Nelson and McNichol.

Blackie-High River 2-0

Playing almost errorless ball, the Blackie nine defeated the High River team with a score of 2-0. It was a fast game, developing into a pitcher's duel. The men on the mound put up a star performance and had generally good support. Neif, however, received steadier support in the field than Isaacson, and High River's eight errors proved costly. Neif struck-out 15 and Isaacson 10. Blackie had 3 hits, 2 runs, and 6 errors; High River, 3 hits, 0 runs, and 8 errors. On the Blackie team, Evans and Woolridge each made a run. Fans anticipate great action between these two teams.

The final exhibition between Blackie and Stavelly resulted in another win for Blackie. The score was 4 to 0. This game was the climax of a most successful and well attended tournament.

ROOSEVELT'S BID FOR NEW WORLD

Message Direct to Heads of 54 Nations Urges Union for Peace and Economic Recovery

President Roosevelt set a new precedent in sending forth a message last week to the Kings, potentates and president of the 54 nations to be represented at the London Conference. It was issued directly without diplomatic indirection, urging the nations to give up offensive weapons of war, and unite for peace and economic recovery. It proposed that no armed troops whatsoever should hereafter cross any frontier save when a neighbor had offended by breaking her armament agreements.

It backed the proposal of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald for a consultative pact for security, which the United States heretofore had shunned and which France much desires, but it also proposed that all nations hold armament within treaty limits, which France has been accused of failing to do.

It mentioned no names, but denounced foreign invasion at a time when the Japanese advance in China is in full swing. It laid down the doctrine of non-invasion so broadly as to preclude by implication further United States marine incursions into Latin-America.

Hitler the following day in an impassioned speech, endorsed President Roosevelt's plan and promised co-operation. In behalf of the nation and the Nazi movement he pledged that Germany would go as far as any nation in disarming, even to scrapping her military equipment if other powers did the same.

LOCAL ITEMS

Mrs. J. King of Calgary—who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Speer, Vulcan, returned to her home on Monday last.

Friends of Howard McKay will be interested in hearing of his graduation from the University of Alberta in the pharmacy course. Mr. McKay completed the course with distinction and his many friends extend congratulations.

Generous response was made by Vulcanites to the call of clean-up week and the town has a decided difference in appearance after the removal of the rubbish and ash heaps that congested the lanes in different parts of the town.

Allan McAskie who completed his first year engineering course at the University of Alberta, Edmonton, with the term just closed, has been successful in passing all subjects written. The Advocate is proud to record success attained by a former Vulcan High school pupil.

A check-up on Vulcan radio license holders will be made early in June, according to word received by the Advocate. Owners of radios are urged to comply with the law and so avoid the inconvenience of prosecution. Radio licenses are obtainable from the local druggists, postmaster Elves or the local R.C.M.P.

Forty canine owners have paid the price for ownership by tax in Vulcan this year and forty bow wows are thus given the privilege of making Vulcan their place of residence, and proudly wear the brass tag that says they do. A small number reached their "happy hunting ground" by non-payment of the tax by their masters.

Donald Matheson, youth who entered the Kirkcaldy store on the Thursday night of two weeks ago and stole money and merchandise to the value of $200, being arrested by Corporal Forsland, R.C.M.P., came up at Lethbridge and was convicted to the charge. The young man received a three month prison term with hard labour.

Citizens of Vulcan and district who are former residents of the city of Toronto will be interested in the announcement by printed folder made this week and received by the Advocate of the Toronto Centennial to be held in that city during three periods in 1934. May 24, 25, 26, July 2, 3, 4 and August 4, 5 and 6 are the three periods set aside for the celebration of the 100th birthday of Toronto as an incorporated city.

Fifty new trees have been planted on the town boulevards this spring, replacing trees that have died or broken through the winter season. The trees were supplied by the town and planted by the citizens whose property the boulevard fronts. All the trees have been pruned under the supervision of R. H. Weale and a luxuriant growth can be expected all season with the reserve of moisture now in the ground. Within the past week the trees have come out in full leaf, three weeks later than last year.

The following item clipped from the Blairmore Enterprise, edited by W. J. Bartlett, hits the point locally with regards to job printing leaving town. "Several weeks ago we announced that a number of local business men had given orders or stationery to a representative of a Toronto printing house. Some of the goods arrived this week. Now the joke: The goods from Toronto have not saved them one solitary cent. Besides, if ordered locally, they could have been delivered in two days—the time it takes for the freight train to travel from Toronto to Sudbury in Ontario, and the same size order here would not cost a darn cent more." Vulcan is periodically visited by representatives of Toronto, Calgary and Lethbridge printing offices and local firms as well as municipal printing orders have been given. These orders could be filled locally at prices quoted by the travelling printers with the addition of personal service.

Willard Darrel Green Passes Away Sat'day

Vulcan Youth Passes Away After Lengthy Illness

Funeral services for the late Willard Darrel Green, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Green, were held from the United Church, Vulcan, on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Weale and Miss Amy Tuttle sang a duet selection "City Four-Square." Pallbearers were Ford Fisher, Albert Collier, Garnet Discher, Charles Carson, Mervine McIntyre and George Hill. Interment was made at the Vulcan cemetery. The Snodgrass Funeral Home had charge of the arrangements.

Willard, a youth of 17 years, passed away at the Vulcan municipal hospital on the afternoon of Saturday, May 20th after a lengthy illness. His childhood and school days had been spent in the town and district with his parents to whom much sympathy is extended during their hour of sorrow.

Scattered showers fell throughout the district Saturday and Sunday, on Monday a heavy downpour of rain fell in town, but since that time old Sol has done his best. Decimal forty two inches of rain fell during the last week.

The Vulcan Fire Brigade under Chief Allan made their second run of this year on Thursday morning of this week around the hour of nine o'clock. The garage on the residence property of H. J. Mabey was the scene of the fire, which was extinguished by a bucket line, the services of the engine not being required although the water was turned on. Damage was small and a few repairs will be necessary. The car was in the garage at the time but was removed to safety and not damaged. Fire was caused by an oil stove in a wash house attached to the garage, which overflared during the absence of a few moments of attendants.

First Vulcan Troop Scouts Attend Foothills Jamboree

May 24 was a propitious day for outdoor celebration, and the first jamboree of the Foothills District Scout Association held in High River on that date was a signal success. Enthusiasm was evident in the numbers of Scouts, Cubs and officials present from neighboring towns, and more than 250 members of the various troops assembled for the day.

Mobilization took place at the public school grounds, and the parade from that point to the park was followed with interest by many observers. The boys made a very smart appearance, with their trim uniforms and erect bearing, and in this connection special commendation was heard for the Vulcan detachments. The Wolf Cubs, many of whom were very small Cubs indeed, caught the spirit of the occasion and played their part valiantly. Troops represented were from Okotoks under Scoutmaster Hanson; Turner Valley under Scoutmaster Whittaker; Vulcan under Scoutmaster J. Conn; Black Diamond under Scoutmaster Virtue, and High River under Scoutmaster Heseltine.

Arriving at the park sport grounds the boys formed a circle for the flag ceremony, after which the Cubs gave their Howl. Prayer by Rev. John Orton and a welcoming address to the troops by Mayor F. L. Watt were followed by a picnic dinner at the long tables in the park under the trees. Mrs. Betton, lady Cubmaster, was in charge of these arrangements, which were most successfully carried out, with the High River Wolf Cubs assisting as waiters.

After all appetites were satisfied, the boys entered on an afternoon of sports, the main features of which were the ball games. Each troop entered a snappy ball team and after the series of eliminations, Okotoks and High River went into the finals, playing the last game to a tie.

During the afternoon the District committee met, under the chairmanship of Mr. Picken of Vulcan, vice-president. At this meeting arrangements were made for a district scout camp to be held at Millerville race tracks during the month of August.

KIRKCALDY WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular monthly meeting of the Kirkcaldy W.I. met at the home of Mrs. H. Todd on Thursday, May 11th. There were ten members present. After the usual manner of opening—the meeting, the roll call was answered by helpful talks on perennial flowers. There were ten minute talks on current events which proved very interesting. During the meeting Mrs. Boose gave an interesting talk on the starting of the Kirkcaldy W.I. this month being the anniversary.

Mrs. Keeystra, a recent arrival from Holland gave a ten minute talk on the ways of carrying on farming in Holland. Mrs. Todd then gave a paper on gardening. At the close of the meeting the hostess served a lovely lunch. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Markert June 8 when the delegate will give her report of the Calgary A.W.I. convention.

Messrs. L. F. Dawson, W. E. Butchart and G. C. Collier were Pincher Creek visitors on Wednesday.

Dr. G. M. Carson, vice-president of the Alberta Command of Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., and zone officer for this district will address the Claresholm branch of the organization at the monthly meeting on June 8th.

Tony and Frank Liebfried learned of the serious illness of their father at Lancaster, Wisconsin on Tuesday. Tony left on Wednesday morning for that town in response to the word received.

Interest has been expressed by many to the playing of lacrosse in Vulcan and it is hoped that an exhibition game can be arranged for the July 1st celebration. There are no few number of old time lacrosse players in the district and among this number are Geo. Todd, R. W. Simington, Fred Simington and Harry Nelson. The latter has received invitation to attend league games of the Calgary Senior Box Lacrosse Association through the secretary of the organization, A. N. "Tony" McKinley. The Calgary league opened yesterday, May 24, and games are being played every Tuesday and Thursday thereafter until the end of the season.

LOCAL ITEMS

A new hobby to us, but perhaps an old one, is the collection of newspapers from all over the world. Attention is brought to this hobby by letter from a chap named A. C. Harrison in Guelph, Ontario, who writes the Advocate this week requesting copies of the paper to add to his collection.

The Vulcan Elks are sponsoring a dance in the Oddfellows' hall on this Friday evening for the purpose of providing funds for improvements on the Little Bow swimming pool. Music for the dance will be supplied by the ever popular Len Davis and his Royal Arcadians. See the posters for the admission price.

Through posters issued by the Advocate the Vulcan baseball club announce the opening game of the season at the Vulcan diamond on Wednesday, June 31. Stavelly will be the visiting club on that date and by the evenly matched game played by these teams at the Blackie tournament on Wednesday the fans can be assured of an interesting and exciting contest. After the game the ball club is sponsoring a dance in the memorial hall with music by Len Davis and his Royal Arcadians. See the poster for further particulars. If you have not already bought a membership card do so now, that you may use the ticket stub for the first game.

Yesterday, May 24 was a Dominion holiday and all places of business were closed in Vulcan. Many went with the baseball club to the Blackie sports day, others stayed at home working in the garden and indulging in sport provided at golf course, tennis courts and softball diamond. There were visitors here from other towns and many here visited elsewhere. Two automobiles with passengers from Lethbridge made use of the camp ground for the day. The weather was ideal for sports and perfect for the holiday. Here's hoping the weather gods are good to us on the first of July when the Elks have a gigantic celebration for your patronage.

Two men were recently arrested near here for robbery at Claresholm. The Claresholm Local Press tells the story: "When two men followed Roy Marshall into Fairbairn's store Monday morning and one engaged him at the rear in looking over a roll of chicken wire, the other man lifted about fifty dollars worth of pocket knives and silverware. They nominally purchased a bill of some eighteen dollars saying they were waiting for their car to be fixed at the garage and would call and pick up and pay for their purchases. They were not seen again and the robbery was discovered. The R.C.M.P. was notified and traced the men to the Vulcan line arresting them there Friday night on a more serious charge of safe cracking."

THAT PACIFIST STAND

The man who champions the cause of war in these days or maintains that war holds any virtue, is a rarity. All appear to be agreed that war is devastation, and a gross crime against the young. Yet there are many who sneer and speak disparagingly of the celebrated vote taken at Oxford University in respect to future wars. Why the inconsistency? Why must younger people maintain silence on the subject of war when they are the real victims? The motion of the Oxford resolution was: "That this House will in no circumstances fight for its King and Country," and the vote carried with 750 for it, and 138 against.

The Calgary Herald quotes the statement of a Canadian Rhodes scholar in explanation of the motion. This young man says "This was intended to be a straight-forward resolution, to show that the phrase for 'King and Country,' will not again serve to mask the underlying causes of any future war, and that it wishes to demonstrate how genuinely a pacifist feeling is at work, and what real efforts are being made to find the means of averting such another disaster."

After all, the best means of averting another war, is for the prospective war fodder to announce in calmness that they are "not having any." This would bring machinators and fomenters to their senses more quickly than any other method. If young men internationally would take the same stand, and they appear to be tending that way, the munition makers would be stripped of their victims.

There is a natural shock at the use of the phrase "King and Country" in the motion. This however, cannot be interpreted as showing disrespect, but is rather a frank debunking of the sentimental and hysterical propaganda which has been used so effectively by the war lords of the past. It is a phrase hitherto infallible in calling men to arms, the most potent phrase with which those who seek personal power and wealth, have enriched themselves.

Incorporated in the statement of the Rhodes scholar, is every reverence and honor to the memory of soldiers who have suffered and fallen in other great wars. But these students may surely be permitted an honest expression of opinion on the futility and hopelessness of war as a solution of trouble for the mass of mankind. Who can deny that they are right?

LEARN FROM 100 A.D.

Elsewhere in this issue will be seen an article on how China met depressions in 100 A.D. It comes as quite a shock to find that human society has little reason to be proud of its advancement. The present economic and social system could take lessons very profitably from the Chow dynasty of 100 A.D. What is the reason for the retrogression? Why is modern society incapable of meeting depressions in the humane and practical method which characterized the Chinese race of 2000 years ago.

One of the laws prevailing at that time was that in time of general want, the government would provide relief work and would also open reserve storages of accumulated grain and other treasure. Modern man cannot carry on a relief work program without corruption and exploitation, and modern governments do not foster "accumulated treasure."

Another law was to reduce taxation by half in hard times. In this advanced age, a depression is an immediate signal to lay across the backs of the struggling populace with more and heavier taxes.

In 100 A.D. the prevailing rule of conscripting labor for public works, was withdrawn in order that the people might have every opportunity to work more profitably.

Trade restrictions of any nature instead of being increased, were abandoned in order that goods might be moved freely and quickly.

Public ownership in products of mountains, rivers, forests and mines prevailed in the Chow dynasty, and it was against the law to permit private exploitation. But in hard times this prohibition was lifted and the products of state property were free to the people. In these days and in our country a poor man would be arrested if he took a trout from the river without a license.

There were also depression laws which eliminated all ceremonials and pomp in high circles and restricted public amusements. The law recognized that in time of want and distress, people are more easily driven to crime, and the emergency law required that special mercy be exercised. In our fair land men have gone to jail for stealing a piece of pie or can of beans. The holding of prayer services was an official law, led by the Emperor.

Can it be said that humanity has advanced in humanitarianism, or in understanding? And the Chinese of 100 A.D. were a so-called heathen race.

BANKERS FAVOR ADVERTISING

Merchants who do not advertise are invited to read the following from the American Bankers Magazine, as it might give them a new slant on business—your own business—as well as the matter of building up your town.

"No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name and business being mentioned somewhere in its columns. This does not mean you should have a whole, half or even a quarter page ad. in each issue of the paper, but your name and business should be mentioned, if you do not use more than a 2-line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town by looking at the paper. This is the best possible town advertiser. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and the town. The man who insists on sharing the business that comes to town, but refuses to advertise his own is not a valuable addition to any town. The life of a town depends on the live, wide-awake and liberal advertising business men."—Hanna Herald.

BOY SCOUT PLEDGE

The rules on which the Boy Scout movement is based, are simple and fundamental. To a great extent they form the bed rock of all character, either adult or juvenile. If a boy starts the business of living, by observing the pledge which he takes as a Scout, he will find less difficulty in meeting the tests of manhood. One of the virtues of the Scout pledge is its simplicity. It lays down no rules which any normal boy, living a carefree, normal life cannot follow. But it does accentuate honor and behavior. A boy who, in his youth, cultivates habits of honesty, industry, courtesy and self-reliance, is well equipped for life.

Of the two million Boy Scouts in the world, 900,000 are in the British Empire and 62,000 are in Canada. The movement is growing steadily, as it deserves to grow.

The Boy Scout pledge is as follows:

A Scout's honor is to be trusted.

A Scout is loyal to the King, his country, his officers, his parents, his employers, and to those under him.

A Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others.

A Scout is a friend to all, and a brother to every other Scout, no matter to what social class the other belongs.

A Scout is courteous.

A Scout is a friend to animals.

A Scout obeys orders of his parents, patrol leader or Scout-master, without question.

A Scout smiles and whistles under all difficulties.

A Scout is thrifty.

A Scout is clean in thought, word and deed.

Mary had a little lamb, its fleece was white as snow, it strayed away one day, where lambs should never go. And Mary sat her quickly down and tears streamed from her eyes; she never found the lamb because she did not advertise. And Mary had a brother John who kept a village store; he sat him down and smoked a pipe, and watched the open door. And as the people passed along and did not stop to buy, John still sat and smoked his pipe and blinked his sleepy eye. And so the sheriff closed him out, but still he lingered near and Mary came to drop with him a sympathetic tear. How is it, sister, can you tell, why other merchants here, sell all their goods so readily

BETTER A SECRET BALLOT

There is a great deal to be said for the use of the secret ballot in the houses of parliament or legislature. Under the present system of open voting, the main purpose accomplish in unswerving allegiance to party, and as a rule there is not any public speculation on how any measure will be received. If it is a government measure, it will be carried; if an opposition measure, it will, without doubt, be voted down, quite regardless of merit. If voting were by secret ballot it is quite conceivable that a greater sense of freedom would prevail, and honest conviction might have a chance.

There have been a few instances in recent legislative history where an unbeliever has stepped out from his party, and declared himself as opposed to the "solid" party conviction. And the public has not been slow to appreciate the courage required in such a step. It is appreciated also that he will have to face the resentment of his colleagues, because individualism is not appreciated, nor trusted in parliament.

It was long ago conceded, says the Grande Prairie Herald, that the voter at the polling booth, should be enabled to mark his vote in utmost privacy and be subject neither to criticism, intimidation or influence. The Herald continues:

"On the other hand, momentous matters are settled in legislative bodies by open roll call vote. Why? Opponents to the present system say this is done in order to keep party members from publicly indicating their private opposition to party-sponsored measures. Many a good member of the provincial and dominion legislative bodies has voted for or against a measure solely because his party whip so instructed him to do. Many vote against their own good judgment for the reason that they fear to do otherwise.

"Prejudiced legislation therefore results. Legislation sponsored by the party in power and beneficial to their interests, rather than to the interests of the electorate at large. The elected member sent to that body to represent his constituents becomes the representative of the party. Why? Because of the open roll call ballot now in use.

"Would the secret ballot improve this condition? It could not help but do so. The member would then vote without fear of intimidation, from his party colleagues, following the dictates of his own conscience and the wishes of his constituents as expressed to him from time to time."

TO CUT ACREAGE

Although delegates at the Wheat Conference at Geneva had no official authority from their governments to make any commitment regarding wheat reduction, it is said that an agreement of ten per cent. cut in acreage was reached. This was supposedly the result of the Conference between Canada, Australia, United States and the Argentine, the four major wheat growing countries of the world.

The agreement, if such it was, is merely a preliminary to the Economic Conference to be held in London. Wheat production will be one of the themes of discussion at that international event.

Already voices are heard in Canada protesting against any such arrangement until full consideration of every phase. It was brought out at the Conference that the world surplus had risen through a great production of wheat on the part of countries not naturally adapted for wheat growing. In an effort at self-containment several countries have turned to producing their own wheat, and further safeguarding against foreign wheat by insurmountable tariff barriers. At the Economic Conference to be held shortly, tariffs will be an important phase of discussion.

It is well established that Canada can produce wheat of highest quality at lowest relative cost of any country in the world. This country is preeminently adapted for wheat growing and wheat exportation. In asking the Dominion to cut acreage in a product of such excellence, it is only reasonable to expect a protest. It is doubtful if it is in the interests of world economy or efficiency to ask the nation which produces such wheat, to make the sacrifice in her best product, while all over the world wheat of inferior quality is being inefficiently grown, in order to serve some artificial national purpose.

Te question of reduction of wheat acreage is tied up with tariffs, rather than actual over-production.

EDISON JUNIOR

Charles Edison, son of the late Thomas A. Edison, recently posted the following bulletin in all plants of the Edison company: "President Roosevelt has done his part; now you do something. Buy something—buy anything, anywhere; paint your kitchen, send a telegram, give a party, get a car, pay a bill, rent a flat, fix your roof, get a haircut, see a show, build a house, take a trip, sing a song get married. It doesn't matter what you do—but get going and keep going. This old world is starting to move."

Wheat prices round London, Ont., are around the dollar mark. But in many instances this means increased prices to be paid for feed.

Government officials were in High River on Thursday in connection with the precautions against grasshoppers. They stated that there is absolutely no need for panic, as the poisoning campaign is well organized. The earliest necessary poisoning will be some time next week and farmers are urged to keep on the look out. The possible affected area is in six divisions. P.D. Huxley with headquarters at Vulcan, is head of this district. There are evidences of grasshoppers, but the situation can be controlled.

MISS MCPHAIL HAS CHANGED

One of Canada's Most Interesting Women Has Developed in Parliamentary Sphere

"The Miss Agnes Macphail, M.P. of 1933 is an entirely different person from the young woman who started the country in 1921 by being elected in Southeast Grey and becoming Canada's first and only woman member in the House of Commons. We first had the privilege of meeting Miss Macphail in 1922, after she had made the famous gesture of turning back to the dominion treasury her sessional indemnity of $4,000. She was then the typical, serious-minded school teacher, ready to preach and lecture upon any occasion. She was all for reforming the world and for tilting at windmills. But 12 years of association with parliamentarians at Ottawa must have changed her, and one must say that it is an enormous improvement.

"Those who heard Miss Macphail at the Canadian Club luncheon here appreciated her ironical, if sometimes biting wit, her fluency of speech, her grasp of the main problems of the day, and above all, her quite complete sophistication. Twelve years have given her the polish of the Land of the Afternoon, and a perspective upon men and events. No longer does she tilt at windmills. No longer does she make only serious speeches. Gone are the days when she was capable of such a gesture as refunding her hard-earned sessional indemnity, inadequate at any time to all members except those with private means.

Yet, while the years have sharpened her wit and given her a sympathetic appreciation of the difficulties and pitfalls of public life, she has never succumbed to the temptation to align herself with any party. She frankly loves parliamentary life and its graceful customs, but she has no use yet for the old-time party system. She is still essentially a reformer, but most fortunately, as she demonstrated in her pleasant speech here, a reformer with a sense of humor. Such is a saving grace in any man or woman in public life, and we wish it was more prevalent.—London Free Press.

SIR HARRY AND JEWS

Always in line with the times, Sir Harry Lauder paid the Jews the compliment of being "the finest white men I have met," adding that he spoke from association extending over 25 years.

And then, the serious vein closed, he told a mirthful story. It concerned a Scot who entered a bar where in a corner sat several Jews.

Ordering a "pony" for which he paid 2d, the Scot began to eulogize the Jews loudly, commenting that he had worked for 10,000 of them, and that he wished there were 40,000 of them.

So consistent was the Scot in his praise that every Jew at the bar stood him a glass of whisky, and when the Scot eventually staggered out "comforted" by five or six double whiskies, the Jews asked the barman who the man was who had just left.

"Oh," said the barman, "he is a gravedigger out in the Jewish cemetery."

THE FINANCIERS MILKED THE COW

Story of How Companies Reorganize And Who Gets the Milk

Where the following originated we know not, but it has been going the round of most weekly papers in the province and gives some idea of the method used in the booming stock market days of 1928 and 1929 to lure the public on:

Ten men who were financiers chipped in ten dollars each and bought a cow that gave ten gallons of milk everyday.

The milk was divided at night and each man received one gallon as his share.

Soon the neighbors far and near heard about the wonderful cow and said one to another: "Think of getting a whole gallon of milk every day. What a wonderful return on a ten dollar investment; I wish I had a share in her."

When this talk was repeated to the ten men, they held a meeting and one of them said: Let us give these people what they want—Our shares in the cow cost us ten dollars each, and we can sell other shares at the same price."

So they went to the printer and obtained one thousand sheets of paper bearing the legend: "One Share in the Cow." Then they sold 500 of these shares at $10.00 each, which brought them $5,000 and divided the other 500 among themselves as their reward for being smart.

Each man of the ten now had 50 shares, whereas in the beginning each had but one.

But one of the ten began to worry: "Look here," he said, "every fellow who bought a share in this cow will expect a gallon of milk tonight and the cow only gives ten gallons. When the milk is divided into one thousand and ten parts these new shareholders won't get a spoonful. Shares will drop to nothing. We'd better unload while we can."

So the ten men went out on the street to find investors and each of them sold the fifty shares that had been awarded to him and thus they obtained a second $5,000 to divide among them."

But now night was drawing near and again one of them began to worry.

"There will be a row at milking time," he said. "Hasten abroad and persuade each of the shareholders to sign a proxy which is a joker authorizing you to cast as you think best the vote to which his share entitles him. Then return with the proxies and we shall do some voting."

At twilight the men met at the barn and in their hands were 1,000 proxies to represent the absent shareholders. And the ten were entitled to vote in their own right, for each still held his original share.

"Now," said the one who did the talking, "we must reorganize. This company needs a president, a treasurer and eight vice-presidents. That gives each of us a job. And since there are ten of us and the cow gives ten gallons it is moved and seconded that each of us receive a salary of one gallon of milk per day. All in favor say 'Aye.'"

The motion carried without a dissenting vote.

And they milked the cow!

Canada is a generous country. She taught New Zealand how to establish the dairy industry, and Marquis wheat was a gift from heaven to the Argentine.

POISON MASH FOR CUTWORM PEST

Cheap and Sure Cure for Garden Pest, Usually Most Numerous After Sod Crops

Cutworms damaging field and garden crops may be readily controlled by scattering poisoned bran mash where they are feeding in the evening.

Crops may be protected with poisoned bran mash for 25 to 35 cents an acre. This includes both material and labor expense. This mash may be prepared with 25 pounds of wheat bran, one pound of paris green or crude white arsenic or one-half pint of sodium arsenite, two quarts of cheap molasses and two or three gallons of water. Mix the poison and molasses into the water thoroughly, to get some poison on each flake of bran. With this large quantity the mixing may be done upon a tight floor or heavy canvas with a hoe or shovel. This mixture will make about 50 pounds. Broadcast it at the rate of 10 or 15 pounds to the acre.

In small gardens worms may be destroyed after they are discovered by scratching around in the soil near the base of injured plants. Tomato and cabbage plants may be protected from cutworm injury by wrapping a double thickness of newspaper around their stem when they are transplanted. This paper collar should extend about one and one-half inches below the surface of the ground and one inch above.

WHEAT AS A SOURCE OF ALCOHOL

The Division of Chemistry at the Experimental Farm, Ottawa, is an interesting spot. This short item will refer to one matter only, and that is a memorandum regarding wheat as a source of alcohol to be mixed with gasoline as a motor spirit. This memorandum has been prepared by Dr. F. T. Shutt, M.C., F.I.C., F.C.S., F.R.C.S., Dominion Chemist, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

This memorandum was prompted by the public statements made so frequently that the surplus Canadian wheat might be used for the manufacture of alcohol as a source of power. It has been shown that alcohol could be produced from molasses, valued 5 cents per U.S. gallon, which is equivalent to 25 cents per Imperial gallon at 100 per cent. strength.

One ton of can molasses gives, approximately, the same yield of alcohol as one ton of wheat. 13½ pounds of wheat will produce approximately, the same amount of alcohol as one U.S. gallon of molasses. This corresponds to a price of 10 cents for 25 pounds of wheat.

To produce alcohol at 25 cents per gallon, wheat should not cost more than 25 cents per bushel to compare with the cost of production from molasses at 5 cents per U.S. gallon. Hence, it does not work that under present cost of processing, alcohol can be economically manufactured from wheat.

Mrs. J. P. Ferguson of Trochu, has been elected head of the Alberta Women's Institutes.

A fellow has to be a contortionist to get up these days. First of all, he's got to keep his back to the wall and his ear to the ground. He's expected to put his shoulder to the wheel, his nose to the grindstone, keep a level head, and both feet on the ground. And, at the same time look for the silver lining with his head in the clouds.

PIGS IS PIGS SO ARE SELECTS

The Range Hog is Not a Profitable Product, Grow Good Hogs and Get the Premium

We heard a story the other day of a farmer, not ten miles from Lethbridge who brought eight hogs to the city. They graded six selects and two bacons. He got a premium of $6 over what he would have got had they been all bacons, and about $14 over what he would have got if they had all been butchers. If they had been heavies or lights the select premium would have been still greater.

It seems that the idea of breeding up hogs is a myth to a lot of people. We pride ourselves that we ship a lot of Red Label beef from this district, beef cattle that bring a premium on the choosy British markets. But the number of our hogs that warrant a premium is mighty small. It has taken 40 years to breed up the range herds of cattle which give us Red Label beef. We can breed up our til the percentage of selects would run high. Certain hog breeders are doing it, but with most of them pig hog herds in three or four years unless just pigs and not worth while paying attention to so far as breeding is concerned.

Lethbridge district with its alfalfa coarse grain and mild winter season should turn out more selects than any part of the West. But there must be some attention paid to breeding, selection and feeding if we are to make the Lethbridge district known as a place where premium hogs come from.—Lethbridge Herald.

Alberta barley for Scottish breweries has been mentioned as a possibility of trade.

Notes from the Vulcan School Campus

For some days little Jim was running a taxi service to the school on his bicycle. He was arrested for speeding, however, and the service has been discontinued.

Much interest is being shown in the school sports. The amateur sportsmen are speaking mysteriously of four-forties, side jumps and strain ed ligaments.

The star reporter of the school paper, "The Spotlight," Gordon T. Schenck interviewed the crack first baseman of the Vulcan baseball team E. Harper, as he was being rubbed down by his trainer, G. Munro. "What do you think the season will be like this year?" the reporter asked. "I should be all right, if she doesn't go away," replied the first baseman dreamily.

Jack Lebeau thinks the proper name of that famous painting, "The Song of the Lark" should be "Is it Going to Rain." He claims that you can't see the lark, and that it does look like rain.

G. Discher has been hanging around the tennis court wearing a superior air—he calculates that he is the coming champion.

Deep regret was expressed at the news that a beautiful debutante dislocated her arm over the week end. Hope is expressed that she soon will locate it.

Teacher: "Give the cotton shipment from United States in any one year." Mugs Malone: "1491, none."

Garnet Discher to Bill Recor at the usual stand: "I want some face powder." Bill: "Mennin's?" Garnet: "No Vimin's."

Some of the wave and shore artists have rounded up a new group of rules for the season's big splash. Here they are:

1. If you go under, be sure to keep your mouth open. You may lower the water to such an extent that you won't drown.
2. Be sure to dive deeply, the bottom won't hurt—much.
3. If drowning, be different, come up four times.
4. Try swimming under water. You may not get stepped on.
5. Let the kid go into deep water. He'll be all right.
6. When diving make a big splash. It adds to the excitement.
7. Yell your head off. It shows that you are interested.

BIG FOUR LEAGUE PLANS SOFTBALL

Brant, Herronton, Red Cross and Ensign Organize; League Schedule Given

Brant, Herronton and Red Cross met recently and decided to form a softball league, to include Ensign also and to be known as the Big Four. Hugh Frame was elected president and Ken McLean, secretary of the League. It was agreed that there be an executive committee, with each team to have one representative whose name would be sent in writing to the league secretary.

It was also agreed that each team furnish one umpire for all league games, the visiting team to supply the ball and strike umpire, and the home team supplying the base umpire unless otherwise agreed upon by the teams' respective managers or those appointed as umpires.

The home team is to supply two balls for league games, to be passed by the umpire before each game is played.

All games will be governed by Calgary A.A.S.A. rules; each team may register fifteen players whose names must be handed to the secretary before June 1, 1933.

All play-off games will be umpired by neutral umpires agreed upon by the executive committee.

It was arranged further that each club deposit five dollars with the secretary of the league to be used for general expenses.

Real interest is being shown by the teams of the league, and the fast ball which they put over last year promises a keen season ahead.

The schedule of play was also arranged as follows:

Games at Red Cross, Monday nights; at Herronton, Tuesday nights at Ensign, Thursday nights; at Brant Friday nights.
